Our Strategy

Artex builds upon our experience to assist in the following areas:

• Training, Coaching and Consulting. Our programs in Small Business Development, across multiple industries, can help identify new business opportunities in the Kingdom.

• Creative Thinking. Our expertise can help Saudis identify new business opportunities through tapping into their creative potential.

• Leadership training programs to help build teams of professionals to manage new and existing companies

• Our experience in financial management and investments can assist both banks and individual investors to understand new opportunities for investment in the local markets, and internationally.

• Our relationship with Swiss Private Bank LLB can assist investors understanding the important role of private banking, global investing, wealth management and the importance of protecting inherited wealth through offshore trusts and accounts.

• Women's Wealth Management and Entrepreneurship Center, to help women learn about financial opportunities, and how to start new businesses.

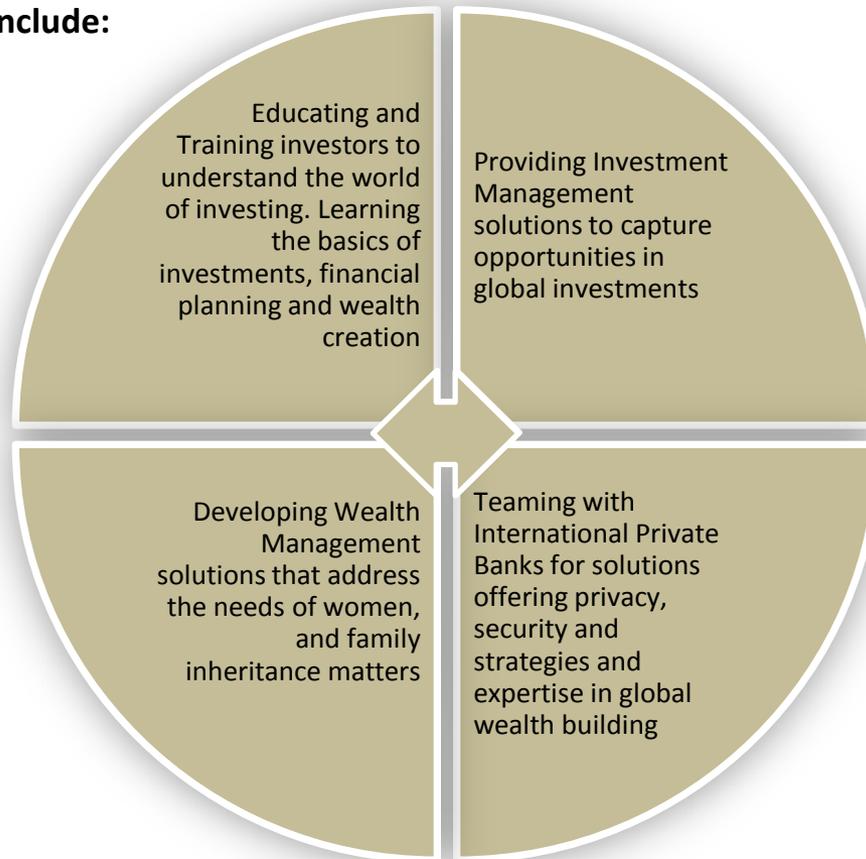

Our Strategy

Identifying the Need, and Opportunity

Wealth Management

Saudi Arabia has a growing upwardly middle class in need of creative solutions to build wealth.

These include:

Our Strategy

Identifying the Need, and Opportunity

Entrepreneurship and Building New Business Opportunities

Saudi Arabia must meet the goal of training a new generation of business managers, and meeting the demand for a new generation of entrepreneurs.

This requires:

A vision and ability to think creatively

An understanding of how Entrepreneurs identify new business ideas and bring them to market

Knowledge and results-oriented management training

Understanding how to run a business, including marketing and customer service

A vision of how to build teams to support growing businesses.

Our Strategy

The Center includes three separate, related functions:

Wealth Management: Artex partners are experienced in all functional areas of banking, including the full range of financial and asset management advisory services geared for women looking to take control of their wealth management needs. We have advised and developed advisory services for women, with over $1 Billion USA under management.

Funding—Artex, through its local and international alliances, to develop funding sources for new business ideas.

Entrepreneurship Center to design, build and implement programs to assist women, in particular, to identify and develop new businesses in the Kingdom.

Conclusions

Our Goals:

Artex has a professional, experienced team of solutions providers to address the needs of financial planners, wealth managers, bankers and the growing class of investors looking to understand markets, investments and global opportunities for managing wealth.

Artex has organized a team of corporate consultants, business managers, and educators, all with expertise in a wide range of support services to help bring new companies to life, and to manage them successfully.

Managing Wealth and Nurturing Entrepreneurs are keys to developing a secure, self-reliant, and prosperous Saudi Arabia.
